Art Contest announced for students in Michigan's 100th House District.

State Rep. Tom Kunse (R-Clare) has announced the launch of an art contest open to all students from first to twelfth grade within Michigan's 100th House district.

The themed contest, "Celebrating Rural Michigan through Art," aims to inspire young artists to express their vision of Northern Michigan's unique beauty.

Kunse expressed his enthusiasm for the event, stating, "I'm excited to see what the creative minds can put together for their interpretation of Northern Michigan. Our district is full of beauty, and there are endless ways for these students to showcase it."

Students wishing to participate can submit a photo of their artwork via email to TomKunse@house.mi.gov by the deadline of April 1. Entries should include the student's name, grade, school, and parents' contact information and home address.

The contest will feature two categories: one for first to eighth grade students, and another for students in ninth through twelfth grades.

Winners from each category will be invited to Lansing, where their artwork will be displayed in Kunse's office.

Eligible submissions must be two-dimensional and can include various mediums such as oil, acrylic, watercolor, colored pencil, ink, marker, pastel, charcoal, collage, print, or mixed media.

Residents unsure of their state House district can visit the state House website for guidance.
